

EXHIBIT A

FROM "LOWERING THE BOOM", March 25, 2013

<http://www.beccalower.com/if-youre-so-concerned-about-your-safety-dont-come-to-maryland/>

Lowering the Boom
Conservative Politics in Ohio and Beyond

Home About LTB Blog Contact

← Stay Tuned... Choosing to Tell the Truth →

'If You're So Concerned about Your Safety, Don't Come to Maryland'

Posted on March 25, 2013 by admin

Partway through my telephone interview with Aaron Walker, he explained that the noise I was hearing in the background was his wife was checking under their car for a bomb. With a mirror.

This has become a part of daily life for Walker, a Commonwealth of Virginia attorney whose family has been targeted for more than a year by convicted "Speedway Bomber" Brett Kimberlin. Another change to his routine is seeking help from the Maryland courts to stop harassment by Kimberlin associate Bill Schmalfeldt. During two recent hearings, Walker's wife, sitting in their car nearby the courthouse, was stalked by Kimberlin. [That link includes photos relating to the stalking, and a link to Walker's blog about the incidents.]

Subscribe

Know the updates by subscribing

Name:

E-Mail:

Follow Becca

Tips Appreciated!

Donate

Recent Posts